How to Get Checked for Breast Cancer

Getting a mammogram

A mammogram is a highly effective screening test for breast cancer. A mammogram is an x-ray of the breast that can find abnormal changes in the breast, even when they may be too small to feel or see.

Eligibility

40-74 years

Most eligible people aged 40 – 74 years should have a mammogram every two years. Individuals can self-refer. Anyone with a family history of cancer may be eligible sooner.

Talk to a healthcare provider if you have questions about your screening options.
